ST MARK'S COLLEGE

A symbol of peace at Benedict Campus on Harmony Day

We gathered to account for our year and there was a day of orange harmony. Bosco were victorious after 14 years.

The College Annual General Meeting

The College community assembles every year in a formal gathering to table reports from the 2018 school year and then to elect a new College Board for 2019. It is usually a quiet gathering on what is a most public night of accountability. The AGM this year, held on March 19, was no exception. The College President, Fr Francis Montero, offered a review of the year and attended on behalf of the Bishop. The Chair of the Board in 2018, Alan Zubrinich, tabled a written report and thanked the members of the Board whilst highlighting significant achievement. A Parents and Friends report was also offered and we gained a greater appreciation of some really significant work in fundraising and building community. The College Principal had written a more detail account of the activities and actions at the school and this is a report, framed around our Strategic Plan, is eventually published in the College Magazine and put online in our website. The Business Manager, Jo Court, reported to the meeting about financial stability and good management of resources. She presented the audited financial accounts which included Profit and Loss, Balance Sheet and Cash Flow statements. It was a meeting where the team stood before our community and said "this is what has been achieved". Our community then had the option to ask about the priorities in school life and administration.

My sense of the evening was that people agreed that the College is going well and that there was confidence in our management. It had been an impressive year. The school had set up opportunity. We were governed with care and responsibility. We were conscious of the mandate of the Bishop to be a place of enlightenment and inspiration. We have bright students who respond to ideas and challenge with resolve. We have staff who respond to curiosity and scholarship and individual need. Parents get involved in community events. It seems to work well.

I acknowledge the 2018 Board and particularly the generosity and work of Darryll Johnson, Katrina Butterick and Emily Williams, who finish their time on the Board. They brought insight and a generosity of spirit to the group.

In am delighted to announce our new College Board: Chairperson – Alan Zubrinich, Chris Rafanelli (Deputy Chairperson), Father Francis Montero (President), Greg Hay (Principal), Desiree Gearing (Staff Representative), Daniel Lauder (P+F Representative), Christine Malycha (Boarding Representative), Jenny Scarce and Daniel Doyle with Jo Court (Executive Officer) and Marc Forster and Melissa Gadaleta (Deputy Principals).

We now launch out into a new year with a new and energetic Board of Management.

Harmony Day

On Thursday our students arrived dressed in orange. They presented themselves in a range of high viz hats and shirts and safety gear which became fashion statements announcing their determination to make this school more harmonious. In a time when our newspaper headlines report so much tragedy and the electronic media screams despair, and when we sense the breakdown in so many relationships, and the tragic loss of life because of selfishness, we had a gentle day of orange harmony. The College community joined in a significant expression of national solidarity. There was orange all over Australia to show a commitment to building relationships.

There is something fun about Harmony Day. It looks bright. It is exciting. It connects us through a zany colour and there is no word that rhymes with orange! It also invites all of us to look inside our hearts to grow in spirit. It presents to us a moment when we say that people are special, a community can make a difference, reconciliation is an opportunity and that we can never allow something to happen that undermines our trust and safety.

KEY DATES

The fourteen year drought was broken as Bosco won Sports Day

Students and staff have responded with excitement. Our students are conscious of being part of a culture; a culture where they have a responsibility and where they connect to something really special. I know that we become really special because of this place. We are committed to good relationship and processes to grow in understanding if mistakes are made.

Bosco Sports Day

We gathered in the new gymnasium to launch the Bosco Sports Day. There was a great sense of excitement and anticipation. It was colourful and full of energy. The students were ready and determined. Some were nervously thinking about competing. Some were dressed beautifully in House colours, or draped crazily with motifs and symbols. The Year 12s had their traditional Sports Day tops and seemed unified as Tradies, cheer leaders, even gracious tennis players. The House spirit was alive and we spread ourselves over the oval and the tennis courts to compete. I enjoyed the effort and the richness of being together. There were fluttering banners and delightful costumes. There was some tough athleticism and talented excellence. There was an easy balance between grinding efforts and House unity at each event. The important races were contested with purpose and determination. The gifted athletes competed with vigour and resolve. The crowd enjoyed the battles of wills over 100 metres and we thrilled to the courage needed to run a 400 metres at top pace. The success of the day was about the rivalry, and the efforts that the students made. It was also about four wonderful House teams coming together.

I thank Kris Sjostrom, the Sports Coordinator, for all of his work. His management was thorough and determined and he used much energy to get everything just right. I was grateful to the staff who supported and parent volunteers who I thought worked generously and hard to give the students an opportunity. In the background was the P+F supplying nourishing and energising foods and drink. That was important sustenance.

Our day started with a freshness and excitement and after a busy and focussed effort became cheering joy because after 14 years in the wilderness Bosco finally took home the silverware. The students were very excited and I know that their effort and their enthusiasm was an expression of the richness and cohesion of our school. It was a great Sports Day.

New Student Morning Tea

I attended a small gathering of Year 7s and 8s this week. A morning tea had been set up for those who are new to the College this year. Amongst the delights of donuts and the deliciousness of watermelon, these new students were once again welcomed. They were asked about their first experiences of the College and we wanted to know that they had settled well. We asked them about the challenges and changes, the differences and difficulties of coming to a new school. They seemed to be fine. There was an easy confidence and the Year Level Coordinators Jess Byerlee and Toni Freer told me that they had settled well and that things were going along nicely for them. Please pass another donut to celebrate thanks!

Fr Lawrie Moate
The College delighted in a visit from past Principal Fr Lawrie Moate. Fr Lawrie was here as a Salesian Brother in the 1960s and then returned as Principal in the 1980s. He is well remembered and loved by that past community. There are staff here who had worked with him and who took the opportunity to take him out to lunch. There were many stories of the richness of St Mark's at another time. He was proud of our achievements and we are more secure because of the legacy that he has left.

Sacramental Preparation
Last week we held a meeting for all those families who wish to celebrate the Sacraments with their children this year. Your presence at these meetings says to your child that this journey they are on is important and that you recognise that this will be a special first for them.

After feedback from families and taking into consideration his own full schedule, the Bishop has made the decision to celebrate Confirmation on Sunday 2 June in Port Pirie this year rather than Pentecost Sunday.

As the date has been changed and also the number of families enquiring after details and forms for the Sacraments this year a second meeting has been set for Monday 25 March at 7:30pm in the Benedict Chapel. I would be important that families make the effort to get to this meeting to gain the necessary information if you wish to be involved this year. Information for all 3 sacraments (Reconciliation, Holy Communion and Confirmation) will be made available on that night.

Project Compassion and Harmony Day
The Project Compassion campaign is running across this College. Harmony Day celebrations this week enabled us to further consider other people and cultures in our community, our country and our world. Thank you to our committed staff who invite our students to learn, be aware, get along and take action on the many circumstances that people face in our world.

Diocesan Priests Move On
This week Bishop Greg O'Kelly announced that a number of Priests in our Diocese would be transferring to new parishes in May. Our own parish priests are part of the moves. Fr Francis Montero will be taking up the position of parish priest in Roxby Downs and Fr Harold Carmonias parish priest of Quorn/Hawker. Our incoming Parish Administrator will be Fr Jimmy Pantin. We offer prayers that a priest will become available to support him in this work. We will do our farewells and welcomes in May.

Bishop's Response to Christchurch
Bishop Greg wrote a letter of support o Muslim communities in the wake of the Christchurch terror tragedy. It has been sent to each group in our regions. You will find the letter in a link in the yellow section below.

God of peace, We pray for those caught up in the events in New Zealand, for those killed and wounded, and for those who will mourn. We pray for the people of the emergency services as they respond, and for community leaders and faith leaders as they work to heal broken communities. Soften the hearts of those who are motivated by hate and bring peace to your precious people of New Zealand. In Christ's name. Amen

A Week of Respect
Last Friday Benedict launched the Benedict - Respect Campaign as a way of acknowledging Anti-Bullying Week and also Harmony Day. I would like to take this opportunity to thank our Year Level Coordinators, Ms Sophie Porcelli and Mr Matt Mead for their development of the week and their thorough planning. I'd also like to acknowledge the support of all staff with this very important campaign.

All incidences of bullying reported to the College are followed up and acted upon. The safety of our students is very important to us. We do rely on parents keeping us informed, so please report any incidences of bullying to your child's Class Teacher or Year Level Coordinator by lodging a Bullying/Harassment Form. This form can be downloaded from our website: http://www.stmarkspirie.catholic.edu.au/general-information/school-policies.

The College became a sea of orange on Thursday for Harmony Day. The key message was that we can 'get along with everyone'. Before our shared lunch on the oval we created a special message of peace for all (see picture on page 1).

The SRC has invited students to create a poster promoting respect and/or respectful behaviours. Class teachers have full details of the poster competition and entries need to be received by 28 March. One winner will be awarded from each year level and the prize will be free entry into the P+F movie night as well as food and drink vouchers.

Partnerships to Success
The Bosco Centre was filled with energy on Wednesday evening as Year 12 parents, teachers and students gathered to discuss progress and learning. This partnership is an important one and reflects the dedication to educational excellence in our community. The evening was well attended and full of productive conversations. I am confident that parents and students left the evening feeling informed, supported and affirmed by how much we care as a community. If you were unable to attend and would like to schedule a meeting with a teacher, please contact the Bosco Student Office or your child's subject teacher directly.

A day of team spirit and strong community
We were blessed with a wonderful day last Wednesday for the Bosco Athletics Day. The Bosco Oval was bursting with energy. Team spirit was high. A strong sense of community was present. Parents, grandparents, friends and Benedict students were present. A wonderful day of athletic talent by all.

I congratulate our House Captains on their leadership, they were truly outstanding, as were all our Year 12 ambassadors. I would like to thank our Sports Coordinator Kristofer Sjostrom for his leadership in organising this important community event and the staff who supported him. I also extend my gratitude to the volunteers, including the P+F. Without you, Sports Day would not be possible.

Bullying –Zero Tolerance
What is bullying?
Bullying is behaviour that is meant to be hurtful, targets a person or group of people, happens more than once and embarrasses, threatens or intimidates the person being bullied. It may happen in person but can also happen out of sight or online. Single incidents and conflict or fights between peers, whether in person or online, are not defined as bullying.

St Mark's College has a zero tolerance to bullying. All incidences of bullying reported to the College are followed up and acted upon. The safety of our students is very important to us. We do rely on students and parents keeping us informed, so please report any incidences of bullying to your child's Year Level Coordinator by lodging a Bullying/Harassment Form. This form can be downloaded from our website using the following link:
http://www.stmarkspirie.catholic.edu.au/__files/d/6250/Harassment%20Form.pdf

To notify the school of a bullying incident can be scary, however, bullies thrive on this fear. I strongly encourage students to stand against bullying, be strong and report incidents using the above form so that we are able to ensure that our College is a place of care, welcome and safety.

Harmony Day
On Thursday we celebrated diversity through our commitment to Harmony Day. It was a day of Orange filled unity. Various celebrations were had around the College, each raising funds for Project Compassion. It was wonderful to see our leaders raising awareness around the importance of harmony. Their key message to our community was about creating an inclusive environment, where everyone is welcomed, valued and accepted.

Wellbeing matters…absolutely
Over the past fortnight, we have been fortunate enough to have Irene and Paul from Head Space visit Bosco Campus and deliver wellbeing workshops to our students. I am grateful for their partnership and care for our community. They were both committed to ensuring their visit allowed all students at Bosco to attend.

The Let's Talk About It: Mental Health Fitness workshop students participated in addressed:

- Understand your mental health and wellbeing
- Break down stigma about mental health
- Explore helpful and unhelpful coping strategies
- Noticing within yourself when you need support
- Understanding and practicing how to access supports with trusted adults and services

To conclude their visit to St Mark's College, Head Space facilitated a Parent Information session, which was held in the Bishop Gallagher Centre on Thursday night. This was a great opportunity for parents / caregivers to further their understanding of mental health and how to support their child. I thank the community for their attendance on the evening and appreciate your shared commitment to the students and their wellbeing.

Bosco Athletics Day

Last Wednesday 13 March, Bosco held its annual Interhouse Sports Day, back at Bosco Oval. The House Leaders and Captains had been busily preparing their teams for the big day. The day began with the opening remarks by Sports Captains Tayla Scarman and Ben Ibele in the Gym. The scores were close throughout the day, and it was evident from early on that it was going to be close between all of the Houses. McNally, Gallagher and Polding got off to fast starts but it was Bosco who edged out the rest of the competition, incredibly breaking a 14 year drought since their last win.

Student participation in the Bosco Interhouse Sports Day was high and all who attended enjoyed the day. This year again saw the addition of the Year 7s and the U13 age group who were incredibly eager and enthusiastic all day. The weather was fantastic and there were long lines of students waiting patiently for their throw, jump or run and others cheering loudly for their respective teams.

Special thanks go to all the volunteers who helped on Sports Day. Without your help the whole day would struggle to run as smoothly or efficiently. Thank you to Peter Munday, Greg Congdon, Robert and Tracey Sjostrom, Kellie Reid, Darryl Turner, Kim White, Rachel Tubb and the P+F. Special mention to Deputy Mayor Allan Zubrinich and John Mullin for attending and presenting the overall and individual winners their trophies.

Congratulations to Mr Greg Phillips, Luke, Ellie and all of Bosco House on your great victory, and also to all individual age group champions. Bosco House are also to be congratulated for taking out the Fr Ray Cau Memorial Handicap Shield for the fourth consecutive year. Year 8 - 12 students that finished in first or second place for an event have been selected to represent the College in the Spencer Gulf Athletics Carnival.

Celebrating Middle School Visual Arts

2019 has been a busy year so far in the Visual Arts Centre! We welcomed the new Year 7 students to the Bosco Campus. Mrs Tilbrook and Miss Munday's classes learnt all about the elements of art. Miss Munday's class analysed Firework artworks identifying their use of colour, line, shape, texture and form as Mrs Tilbrook's class applied these elements using digital graphics to create Pop Art inspired self-portraits. Both classes have learnt and applied colour theory and painting techniques to develop unique paintings. Miss Munday's class created bright Keith Haring Pop art paintings, that send a message about an issues in today's society and Mrs Tilbrook's class researched and acknowledged connections to the country through Aboriginal inspired aerial paintings.

Year 8 Art students have been exploring how to use the elements of art to create the principle of pattern. They combined this with personal symbolism to create a 'crazy hair' self-portrait for their folio cover. They have now begun to further explore the elements of texture and form in the 3D Studies unit, with some students expanding on their understanding of pattern in 3-dimensional form. The next few weeks will see them busy constructing their 'Decorative Clay Word' and applying their problem-solving skills as they learn the basic techniques of clay hand-building.

Year 8 Design students had a technical start to the year developing the ability to draw isometrically. They utilised this skill to draw their name applying the elements of art to identify their Design folio. The ability to sketch design plans isometrically is a technique that is supported in many design courses as it demonstrates 3D aspects of practical plans. Students then moved onto their Folio and Practical assignment where they developed and created unique characters made from plasticine. Students were challenged to come up with 4 different ideas in their folio work, but they created colourful and unique figurines that suited their choice of design brief.

Year 9 Visual Art students have learnt about the creative design process and implemented its use in the creation of their folio covers. Surrealism has been our current topic focus, students have completed theory tasks on the origins of surrealism, it's most prominent artworks and its connection with dreams and the subconscious. Our current project is a surrealist painting, combining two ordinary objects into something surreal! Students will learn basic Photoshop skills in order to combine their objects together, before they begin their paintings.

Year 10 Art students completed an Introduction to Photoshop unit at the beginning of the term, where they learnt important Photoshop skills and shortcut keys to make their editing easier. Students are currently nearing the end of a portraiture drawing unit, with their final artworks being A3 Mixed Media Portraits.

Year 10 Design students have researched a design career of their choice and applied art principles to explore how they affect the final products. Students will continue to develop their knowledge of their chosen career in design by developing their own practical work in the term ahead.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Parents + Friends

AGM of the P + F

I attended the AGM of the Parents and Friends this week and was delighted to read the President Daniel Lauder's annual report. The report spoke of a busy, creative and fun filled year. It spoke of invitation and fundraising.

It was about great community moments and the opportuntity for parents to be more fully involved in their children's education. I was filled with a gratitude for such a vibrant group of people and the impact that they made.

Daniel continues as President and that means more chances for significant contribution to the College and the continued creation of great community moments. They are a great part of this great school.
